DECATUR MORNING REVIEW.

VOL. XII. NO. 137. DECATUR, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 23, 1890. 10 CENTS A WEEK.

THE PRESBYTERIANS.

An Important Session of the General Assembly.

THE SPECIAL ORDER OF THE DAY.

Report of the Committee on Methods of Effecting Changes in the Confession and Constitution Adopted—Dr. Crosby Offers a Fervent Prayer to God for the Result—Paving the Way for Revision—Points in the Debate.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 22.—In the Presbyterian assembly Thursday morning Dr. Kneeland, of San Francisco, offered a resolution that the special committee on publication be continued another year in order that it may meet and confer with the reference committee in the matter of the board of publication reports; also tendering a vote of thanks to the special committee for their faithful work during the year. A dozen commissioners clamored for the floor. A motion was made to strike out all of the resolution except that part returning thanks. It was defeated by a roar of nays, and Dr. Kneeland's resolution was adopted. The special order of the day was the report of the committee on methods of effecting changes in the confession and constitution.

REV. HOWARD CROSBY, D. D.

Stood Shoulder to Shoulder.

Dr. Roberts, of Cincinnati, read the report and addressed the assembly in its support. He said section 6 of the report was a compromise. The committee was a unit on that section as it stands. Three modes were recommended by which the changes in the constitution might be made. Section 7 is practically a recognition of the adopting act and provides the shortest possible method of amending the doctrinal constitution. Dr. Roberts said the committee was practically a unit on the report. [Great applause.] In the critical times the committee had stood shoulder to shoulder for the good of the church. "I ask nothing more, brethren, than, with the church of God in your hearts, you adopt this report and send it down to the presbyteries as one man."

Dr. Van Dyke Quotes.

Dr. Patton, of Princeton, said there had been mutual concession without surrender of opinion on either side. Dr. Van Dyke, of Brooklyn, said: "This report is the result of a compromise of opinion—not of truth. It is a peace measure and it clears the way for a conservative revision—not a radical revision, as I have been falsely reported as saying of the confession." He closed by quoting:

"There is a fount about to stream,
There is a light about to gleam,
There is a morning twilight broadening into day
Men of thought and men of action,
Men of thought and men of action,
Clear the way."

A Solitary "Nay."

Dr. Patterson so heartily approved the report that he didn't think an explanation of his position necessary. The question of adoption was put and brought out a prompt and emphatic yea. To the question of the contrary there was a solitary "nay" from the rear of the church. There was a shout of laughter, then a storm of hearty, long-continued applause. Whilst the assembly stood Dr. Crosby offered a fervent prayer of thanks to God for the result, and when the assembly sat down again it looked like Mrs. Fezziwig—"one vast, substantial smile." This vote settles the question of the adopting act and paves the way for revision.

Omitted from the List.

Dr. Patton read the report of the committee on canvass of overtures to the presbyteries on revision. When Dr. Patton finished reading the list of presbyteries which objected to any changes that would affect the system of doctrine, Dr. Van Dyke said that Brooklyn had been omitted. "They can't include us among the radicals," remarked the doctor sotto voce, as he resumed his seat. The example was infectious, and Jersey City, Morris, Orange, Idaho, Dayton and a dozen other presbyteries were named by commissioners as having been omitted from the list. The moderator requested the commissioners wishing to make changes to meet with the committee. The report was received and referred back for correction, and a recess was taken.

THE COLOR LINE IN CHURCH.

It Comes Up at the Baptist Anniversary at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The threatened trouble between the colored Baptists of the south and their white brethren in the north, broke out into war Thursday, when Rev. A. Binga, Jr., a negro preacher from Manchester, Va., entered Immanuel church and presented a series of resolutions adopted by the state convention of colored Baptists in session at Lynchburg. The resolutions complain of the action of the American Baptist Publication society in discharging three colored writers for The Teacher. Rev. Binga, in presenting the resolutions, spoke feelingly. He said there was no Mason and Dixon's line in his heart. The colored brethren were simply curious and wanted an explanation. Cheering, mingled with expressions of disapproval, marked the conclusion of his address.

Were Disturbing Elements.

Dr. B. B. Griffiths, national secretary, in reply said there were three reasons for dropping the men: "First, we had too much material for our journal; second, we needed more material for our tracts; third, the race troubles of last year at Indianapolis. If we were to select writers again we would not select those colored men, because we believe them to be disturbing elements."

After the discussion had continued some time Rev. Hermitage, the vice president, rose and moved that the matter be referred to the board of managers. There were a few scattering yeas and a rumble of nays and the vice president declared the matter referred.

Broke Up in Disorder.

Rev. Dr. Burch, a colored Baptist of this city, rose to protest, but the chairman declared him out of order. There was such a chorus of "Hear him! Hear him!" that Rev. Mr. Armitage was forced to put a resolution permitting Rev. Mr. Burch to speak for three minutes from the platform. The colored preacher declared he protested against the peremptory action taken, and protested in the name of a quarter of a million of negro Baptists. At the conclusion of his remarks a motion to adjourn was put to the house by the chairman in spite of opposition, and the meeting broke up in disorder.

The Methodist Conference.

ST. LOUIS, May 22.—The Methodist Episcopal general conference Thursday contined the consideration of the report of the committee on missions. The principal point of consideration was the motion for appointment of two additional secretaries. After a lengthy debate the conference appointed two additional secretaries, making three in all.

Reformed Presbyterian Church.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 22.—The general synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church convened here at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, Rev. H. H. Brownell, of Coultersville, Ills., acting as moderator. Delegates were present from all parts of the country. The session was taken up with effecting an organization and other routine business.

THE BENNETT SCHOOL LAW.

A Case Thereunder Fails for Want of Substantiality.

JEFFERSON, Wis., May 2.—William Wendt, Charles Moods, Mrs. Moods, and Fred Keller, of the town of Sullivan, were before Justice Krebes Wednesday afternoon on complaint of the school board of district No. 8 of the town of Sullivan for failing to send their children to school as required by the Bennett law. District Attorney W. H. Rogers, of Fort Atkinson, appeared for the prosecution, and George Grim for the defendants. It was shown to the court that the board, in establishing the compulsory period of sixteen weeks, failed to use the word "consecutive," omitted the words "private as well as public school" in its notice required to be given prior to the 1st of September, and failed to give five days' notice before commencing prosecution. It was further shown that there was still a sufficient time before the expiration of the school year to admit of compliance with the law. In view of these informalities the court dismissed the case.

Plot of the Cronin Murderers.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Tribune's Chicago special says: A dispatch from Joliet, Ills., states that a report is current that despite the recent exposure of the "underground route" between the Cronin prisoners and their outside friends, the secret communication has been restored, and $1,000 in one sum, besides many smaller amounts, have been smuggled into the prison for purposes of bribery. The story is said to have leaked out through a Cronin prisoner who feared a renewal of the punishment lately incurred.

Sold Liquor to Indian Boys.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., May 22.—An interesting case of furnishing liquor to two Indian boys was tried before Judge Yerkes Tuesday. The prosecutor was W. P. Campbell, an agent of the Carlisle Indian school. The testimony was that Joseph Doan, of Yardley, sold liquor to Ralph Naltney and Peter O. Coted, two Indian boys living with farmers in lower Bucks county. The defendant was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and costs, and undergo an imprisonment of six months in the Doylestown jail.

Ran Away with the Bill.

TRENTON, N. J., May 22.—Assemblyman Trier, chairman of the committee on municipal corporations, went away Monday, and the Newark elevated railway bill, which has been under discussion before his committee, can not be found, and it is believed that he has run away with the bill. A resolution was adopted instructing the sergeant-at-arms to produce Trier before the bar of the house. The officer started for Newark, but it is believed that Trier is outside the state.

Fought Over a Land Claim.

GUTHRIE, I. T., May 22.—Two negroes fought a duel with Winchester rifles near Kingfisher Wednesday. Each laid claim to a quarter section of government land, and in discussing the merits of their cases they became engaged in a quarrel and began shooting at each other with Winchesters. One of them named Moore received a bullet in the heart and dropped dead. The name of his slayer, who escaped, is unknown.

Now Let Indignation Do Something.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 22.—A special to The Times from Alliance, O., says: John Shewfran, of Homeworth, near here, was roused from his slumbers the other night by a howling mob of White-Caps. They fired several shots, one taking effect in Shewfran's body. The mob then fled. The injured man says he did not know he had an enemy in the world. Great excitement prevails and indignation runs high.

BOSTON, May 22.—Robert Teamon, colored, a reporter of The Boston Globe, was Tuesday unanimously elected a member of the Boston Press club. He is probably the first colored man ever elected to an incorporated white man's club in Boston. Teamon has been connected with The Globe for about a year.

THE PROCEEDINGS IN CONGRESS.

Credentials of Calvin S. Brice Placed on File in the Senate—The House Takes Up the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill in Committee of the Whole—An Objection from Chilian Members to the Pan-American Conference.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—The credentials of Calvin S. Brice as senator from Ohio for six years commencing March, 1891, were presented in the senate by Payne, read, and placed on file. Conference committees were appointed on the District of Columbia and pension appropriation bills, and Daniel took the floor for a speech on the silver bill. He claimed that the financial system of the country was out of joint. The currency was insufficient in volume to maintain trade and was irrespective of the laws of trade.

At the conclusion of Daniel's speech the senate took up the naval appropriation bill.

In the House.

Dunnel from the committee on census, reported a bill to the house prescribing penalties to any supervisor or enumerator of the census who shall receive any fee or pay other than his regular compensation from the government, and it was passed. Conferences were ordered on the army appropriation bill and the military academy bill. A bill appropriating $90,000 for a deficiency in printing and binding was passed, and the house went into committee of the whole upon the river and harbor appropriation bill.

A MATTER OF PLATFORMS.

Interpretation of National Declarations Discussed in the Senate.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—After Stewart had completed his speech on silver in the senate Wednesday, during which he had said that the currency had been contracted and its value enhanced so that people could not pay their debts "in the money in which they had been contracted," Platt quoted statistics showing that there had been no contraction of the currency under the act demonetizing silver. Stewart referred to the silver planks in the party platforms of 1888, whereupon Blair wanted to know why the senate had not passed his school bill if the platforms of political parties were binding. [Laughter.]

Farwell said that as a member of the committee on resolutions at the Chicago convention his interpretation of the silver plank was that the party was in favor of silver money at the market price of silver.

Would Veto the Bill.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—A western member of the house who visited the secretary of war and President Harrison reported at the capitol that the president would veto the river and harbor bill if it should be passed, and that the grounds for the veto would be excessive provisions in the bill. The president believes that large appropriations for pensions, public buildings, and various internal improvements will run the aggregate for the session up so high that the revenues of the government would not stand the appropriations proposed by the river and harbor bill.

Chilian Members Object.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—The New York Herald's special says that the Chilian members of the pan-American conference have filed their formal objection to the compulsory arbitration treaty adopted by the majority of the conference. Chili favors international arbitration, but regards compulsory arbitration as impracticable and dangerous. It is also pointed out that the United States government as far back as 1838 committed itself against such a principle. Chili also makes the point that the recent conference had no authority to adopt treaties.

Bad Outlook for Wheat.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—According to advices received at the department of agriculture, the outlook for the wheat crop in southern Illinois is very bad. The weather bulletin for the last week shows that the temperature has been considerably below the normal and that the rainfall has been above the average. The unfavorable weather has also delayed corn planting in some sections, while in others the planting is progressing slowly.

Armstrong, and several other citizens of Texas, accompanied by their wives, and a cordial invitation was extended to the ex-president and wife to visit the Texas state fair to be held at Dallas in November. Mr. Cleveland replied that he had long desired to visit the southwest, and if nothing unforeseen occurred he would gladly accept the invitation.

IOWA TEMPERANCE WOMEN.

A Lively Time at the Annual Meeting—The Rupture in the Order.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 2.—At the annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Black Hawk county, Professor White of the Iowa State Normal school in delivering the opening address charged Miss Willard with teaching "socialism and anarchism." At the close of his address a lady in the audience arose and challenged the gentleman to produce one sentence or one word in which Miss Willard ever taught the doctrines named. Professor Wright replied that she recommended the reading of Bellamy's "Looking Backward" at the national convention last fall, whereupon his antagonist answered: "If that was a disgrace the lady had excellent company in Professor Swing, Dr. Thomas, and other intellectual lights the country over," after which followed a general combat of words, in which Fosterism, Willardism and Bellamyism were frequently uttered.

A Woman of Straw.

Mrs. Mary Hinman, district president, decided that she had rather have J. Ellen Foster's old gown stuffed with straw at the head of the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Iowa than that any other woman should take her place. A clergyman replied that she had figured as a woman of straw at the head of that society quite long enough. The convention indorsed Mrs. Hinman's preference for the woman in staw by declaring themselves non-partisan. Mrs. Mary F. Robinson, the lady who answered Professor Wright, in a letter says: "Ladies, permit me to say that the woman of straw has been with you while the woman herself has spent most of her time, while acting as president of the Iowa Woman's Christian Temperance union, in supporting high-license candidates in New York state for high-license money." The rupture in this organization in Iowa is quite pronounced.

Eloped with a Jockey.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—Billy Mack, a horse jockey, known throughout the northwest, and Miss Dell Day, the daughter of Jesse N. Day, one of the most prominent citizens of Dayton, Wash., eloped and were married at Waitsburg. Miss Day fell in love with the jockey while attending the races last fall. She sought him out, introduced herself, and the admiration became mutual. Her father's sanction to the marriage was asked but was denied indignantly, and the elopement followed. Mack is in the employ of S. G. Reed, the millionaire breeder of fine stock, who says the young people shall have a good home on one of his farms.

Convention of Temperance Women.

ST. LOUIS, May 22.—At the second day's session of the eighth annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union of Missouri, Mrs. Clara Hoffman of Kansas city made her annual address as president. She reviewed the work of the women of this country in their struggle against slavery and the liquor traffic. She claimed that through the efforts of women every church in the country, except those of the Roman Catholic and German Lutheran denominations, had broken off their criminal alliance with saloons. She claimed that the newspapers dared not denounce saloons for fear of losing subscribers.

Chasing a Juryman.

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., May 22.—The steam yacht Sea Pearl of Muskegon, commanded by Capt. Joseph Clayton, having on board Dr. and Mrs. Stamp and another lady, bound for Chicago, left this harbor about 6:30 in the evening. Clayton was wanted as a juryman at Muskegon, and the sheriff sent a deputy here to bring him back. Finding he had flown, accompanied by Sheriff Vanfiel they gave chase in the tug Cockell, Capt. Irons, and overhauled the Sea Pearl near Holland. Clayton was not inclined to surrender, but was finally taken and returned to Muskegon next morning, leaving his yacht at Holland.

The Longue Pointe Holocaust.

MONTREAL, Que., May 22.—At the coroner's inquest in the case of the Longue Pointe asylum fire, a list was presented purporting to be the names of the victims, but which proved to be made up from information supplied by the nurses. The jury demanded an official list of all who could not be traced, and the inquest was adjourned for a week to allow the sisters time to prepare it. It will be taken from the record and will contain the names of all who were in the asylum at the time of the fire, excepting those who are being cared for in some other institution, and those who are known to be safe.

Confessed the Moffat Robbery.

DENVER, Colo., May 22.—A telegram received here from Clayton, Mo., states that a man who had been arrested for stealing horses at that place had confessed having robbed David H. Moffat, president of the Denver First National bank, of $21,000 at the point of a pistol a year ago. The prisoner gave as an excuse for confessing that during his imprisonment his "pal" might abscond with the hidden money, and he takes this method of protecting himself. An employe of the First National bank has left for Clayton to identify if possible the prisoner.

A Bitter Strike Inevitable.

REYNOLDSVILLE, Pa., May 22.—A long and bitter strike of the coal miners of this district now seems inevitable. HEROES OF BALAKLAVA

The Pitiable Condition of Some Thirty Survivors.

ALL ARE CRIPPLED AND IN WANT.

The Highest Pension Allowed Any of the Unfortunate Men Is 31 Cents Per Day—A Memorial Urging a Weekly Pension of $5 Per Week—An Irish Meeting Proclaimed—Riotous Strikers Killed—Foreign Items of Interest.

LONDON, May 22.—The recent exposure of the fact that more than thirty of the heroes who took part in the famous charge of the light brigade at Balaklava are in absolute want, coupled with the statement in the house of commons by Secretary of War Stanhope that the government could not draw a hard and fast line between the case of these men and that of men who performed equal deeds of gallantry in other campaigns and that the necessities of the survivors of the great "six hundred" should be alleviated by public subscriptions, has created considerable indignation throughout the country. The radical press and the orators of the same element are comparing the treatment accorded by the British government to its veterans with the solicitude that is manifested by the congress of the United States for the veterans of the Mexican and civil wars, and the Radical league is preparing for general circulation a leaflet showing the amounts appropriated for pensions in the United States during the last ten years, together with extracts from recent speeches in congress in favor of service and other pension measures.

A Disgrace to a Heathen Land.

Lieut. Wightman, secretary of the Balaklava committee, says that the dire misfortune into which many of the veterans have been allowed to fall would be a disgrace to a heathen land. Of the six survivors of the Seventeenth Lancers, two are in London poor houses, and another, who recently lost three fingers of his right hand in a machine shop, is in poverty. Of the two survivors of the Thirteenth Hussars, one 80 years old, is sweeping street-crossings in the Strand, and the other is dying in a garret. Five of the Eleventh Hussars are living; one in a poor house, another in a hospital, while the other three are living from hand to mouth.

Ruined by the Campaign.

Of the eight that remain from the ranks of the Eighth (King's Own) Light dragoons, Private Doyle, who was the duke of Cambridge's orderly at Inkerman, is starving in Dublin; another, helpless through age and disease, is an inmate of the Withington workhouse; a third is in a hospital, and the remainder are in destitute circumstances, but too proud to go to the poor house and are subsisting on charity. The highest pension allowed any of these unfortunate men, not one of whom is under 70 years of age, is 31 cents a day. Every one of the number is crippled and physically ruined by the campaign. The memorial which brought out the reply from the secretary of war urged that a pension of $5 weekly be granted to each hero for the short time he has to live.

REMARKABLE DUEL AT VIENNA.

A Croatian Girl of 18 Fights a Man with Rapiers and Wins.

VIENNA, May 22.—A remarkable duel was fought here Wednesday between a man and woman. A young physician of this city offended a Croatian girl a day or two ago and refused to apologize for the affront, whereupon the girl challenged him to fight a duel. The challenge was accepted and the two met in a hired room. The weapons were rapiers. The girl, who is only 18 years of age, proved to be a splendid fencer and wounded the doctor twice. The girl is said to have been educated in South America.

A British Opinion on Silver.

LONDON, May 22.—Mr. Henry H. Gibbs, president of the Bimetallic league, has sent the following cablegram to Mr. Dana Horton, at Washington: "I think the Jones bill will be a most effectual step toward the remonetization of silver. In no case need there be any fear of shipments of silver from India or China to the United States. While the passage of the bill will give confidence to Europe in the stability of silver, its operations will be well calculated to bring about an international bimetallic agreement with the Latin union and probably other nations."

An Irish Meeting Proclaimed.

LONDON, May 22.—The monster meeting which it was proposed to hold in the new town of Tipperary next Sunday has been proclaimed by the government, to the intense indignation of the inhabitants of the new town and the surrounding country. The official action is professedly taken in the interest of order, but there is a suspicion that the prohibitory order was influenced by Smith Barry, from whose estate the inhabitants of the new town seceded.

Several Strikers Killed.

ROME, May 22.—At Conselice a mob of 500 women and 200 natives, who had gone on strike, tried to force an entrance into the town hall, shouting: "We are starving." The crowd stoned the troops who were guarding the municipal building, and the latter were compelled to use their firearms. Several persons were killed and a number wounded.

WHAT DO YOU BELIEVE?

The religious question that has occupied most attention during the last few months, is that of the revision of the Presbyterian Confession of Faith. The newspapers, secular and religious, have had a good deal to say about it; and it may be said that the secular papers have been able to agree better than those more deeply interested. There is now evidence that the rank and file of the Presbyterian church know very little about what the Confession of Faith really is. An eastern lawyer who is an elder in the Presbyterian church, writes to The New York Sun to inquire why the confession is not put in the hands of members at the time they join. He says this is not done in the country churches; and then adds:

"There is assuredly a great deal of ignorance among members of the Presbyterian church in this direction: and how it can well be otherwise is a mystery, when, to speak safely, nine-tenths of the rank and file of its members, like myself, have never set eyes on this same Confession, and have, therefore, very vague ideas of what it actually teaches."

It now seems that it is not necessary that the laymen should subscribe formally to the Confession; only ministers and elders are required to do that. It further appears that while Psesbyterian laymen are exhorted to instruct their children in the Confession and to teach them at least the Shorter Catechism, very few of them do so. So the question actually comes up, do the body of the Presbyterians know the Confession which it is now proposed to revise? We have made some inquiries and found that well-informed people among the Presbyterians know as little about the Confession as the man who wrote to The Sun. It should be interesting to those people, and in a somewhat less degree to all others, to learn what that Confession really is. We are informed that the doctrine of election and damnation is the part of the Confession that is now on trial; and further that this doctrine may be found in the Larger Catechism substantially as it is in the Confession. Here is what the Larger Catechism has to say:

"Question—What hat God expcially decreed concerning angels and men?

Answer—God, by an eternal and immutable decree, out of His mere love, for the praise of His glorious grace, to be manifested in due time, hath elected some angels to glory; and, in Christ, hath chosen some men to eternal life, and the means thereof, and also, according to His soverign power, and the unsearchable counsel of His own will (whereby he extendeth or withholdeth favor as He pleaseth), has passed by and foreordained the rest to dishonor and wrath, to be for their sin inflicted, to the praise of the glory of His justice.

"Question—How doth God execute His decrees?

"Answer—God executeth His decrees in the works of creation and providence; according to His infallible knowledge, and the free and immutable counsel of His own will.

"Question—What are the decrees of God?

"Answer—God's decrees are the wise, free, and holy acts of His will, whereby from all eternity He hath, for His own glory, unchangeably foreordained whatsoever comes to pass in time, especially concerning angels and men."

Every one will admit that the above doctrine is a pretty serious matter, and that it should at least be known before any one takes it upon himself to vote against the revision. It is a little strange that a very intelligent Presbyterian should come forward to ask where he may get knowledge of his Confession, especially when it is as important as the one above. Those who vote against revision should at least be given a chance to learn what it is they now believe.

DICTATORS LEGISLATE.

The republicans have passed their tariff bill, and now let the infamy be theirs. The vote was 164 to 142. There were only two republicans to vote against the bill, and even Ben Butterworth was not one of these. McKinley, who is known as the lord high taxer of the republican party, folded his papers after the vote and strode down a Washington avenue, escorted by the smiles of monopoly's lobbyists. He had carried out his bargain with the men who had allowed themselves to be fried of "fat," and so he felt as happy as a man should who has changed himself from debtor to creditor. The tin-plate men had a close call during the day, but they pulled through all right and so they joined in the wink to McKinley.

The special correspondents put the following explanation of Butterworth's vote in his own words:

A man cannot accomplish anything by going against his party. It is in many respects a bad bill, and the committee has not been fair to the members on its own side of the House, but nothing was to be gained by opposition at the last moment. We had already exhausted all the means at our command. But the committee was not willing to give us a chance to be heard. It chose to force through the House a bill only one-third of which has been properly considered. It set itself up as the guardian of the majority and refused to consult the very men on whom it depended for votes to pass its bill. Five men presumed to dictate to 160 men. The result is that, bowing to party demands and hoping to have justice done us in the Senate, a bill is passed which a majority of the majority do not believe in.

Well, let us accept Butterworth's explanation. We would like to know how the republican party could be put in a more miserable light. If a republican Congress will allow a band of five dictators to rush through bad laws against the wishes of a majority, how are we to get the legislation we want from such a body? Suppose the Senate does amend the tariff bill; will the dictators allow the House to agree to the amendments? And do the people of this country want a House that must depend entirely upon the Senate to prevent robbery? If Butterworth thinks that nothing can be accomplished by opposing his party when he firmly believes that party to be in the wrong, then it is of great importance that Butterworth be kept in Cincinnati. The same is true of Illinois republicans who were honestly opposed to the bill, and who yet voted for it in the hope that the Senate might have courage to do something better. We haven't been educated to put much dependence in the Senate. We hope it will do something good this time, but whatever it does it is our business to look out that the next House shall be made up of men who do not love dictators and party crie more than the welfare of the people. To paraphrase one of Mr. Butterworth's expressions; the man who would vote against the people's interests at the command of a party leader is not indictable, only because there is no law to fit the case, and not that he is no criminal.

THE man who has been selected to succeed Samuel J. Randall in Congress, Richard Vaux, seems to be a very distinguished character in several ways. He is a tariff reform democrat of very pronounced views. He and his predecessor could not get along in a house of 100 rooms if the discussion of the trade question was allowed on the premises. The platform on which he was elected was the kind Grover Cleveland would have written. It was in direct opposition to the Chinese idea presided over by that heathen trinity, Quay, Reed and McKinley. When Mr Mills presents his bill in the next Congress he will meet with no democratic opposition from the city of Philadelphia. Mr. Vaux is a democrat of the kind who had rather try to reform the tariff laws than be president.

In fact the names that have been given him would indicate that his democracy is of the kind that does one's heart good when it is read about. He is known as the "Coeur de Leon of the Quaker City Democracy." Some on the other side of the house refer to him as "The Bourbon of Bourbons." He wears whiskers all over his face, and he is a grand old thoroughbred. In his younger days when the blood was warm in him he danced a set with Queen Victoria. It has always been his firm belief that there is nothing on earth too rich for a democrat.

There is a cut of Mr. Vaux going the rounds of the newspapers that stamps him as a terror to evil doers. We look at this cut and conclude that he is entitled to all the descriptive terms that have been applied to him. It will decorate any other great and glorious term that may be gathered from the alphabet. If you wish to be eminently right, say something good of Richard Vaux.

REVIEW POST OFFICE.

A KICKER.

May 21, 1890.

To the Editor of THE REVIEW.

DEAR SIR.—On two or three occasions when coming in on the accommodation from St. Louis, which arrives here at 8:45 p. m., I have noticed when about to cross North Water street cressing, that some young ladies are in the habit of running across the track directly in front of the engine, trying I should judge, to see how close they could get without being struck by the engine, and if they keep this practice up they may succeed in their attempt to get hurt, and then of course the engineer will be charged with wreckless running. We do not pay much attention to hurting any one, but to strike one of these ladies and hang her wearing apparel on the front end of the engine and stop and go back and find the lady standing on her head against a lumber pile in a nude condition, would I think, be more than any Wabash engineer could stand without having his modesty pretty severely taxed. I for one have no desire to witness any such a scene, and before it comes to this, I hope the ladies will stop their self destructive practice, if not for their own benefit, for the benefit of Wabash train men.

Yours truly,
AN ENGINEER.

Convention in Session at Boody—Interesting Work.

The Sunday School Association of Decatur district Central Illinois Conference, met at Boody, Wednesday, and was opened by prayer and an excellent sermon, by Rev. J. A. F. King, of this city.

Rev. Field, of Decatur, was elected chairman, Miss Mina Casner, secretary. Rev. J. H. Crowder was appointed a committee on enrollment.

The first topic, "Sunday School Teaching, Its Nature and Object," was offered with an interesting address by Rev. D. O. Giffin, of Casner. His principal thought was the necessity of good maps, charts, blackboard, etc. The question was further discussed by L. Field, J. A. F. King, Miss Gardner, J. H. Crowder, J. M. Stevenson, and C. Huring.

"Reviews; Shall We Have Them?" "By Whom and How to be Conducted," offered by Rev. S. H. Welch. The speaker held that the reviews were indispensible, and each superintendent or pastor should devote a few minutes each Sabbath to reviews.

AFTERNOON.

House Visitation—This subject was introduced by Mr. Knotts, who spoke of the necessity both in city and country of visiting those who did not attend, that thereby they might be brought to the Sunday school and be saved. He was followed by Revs. King, Trueblood, Predmore, Crowder, Prof. Neinker, Garde and Ruthrauff.

Our Literature: Shall it be Denominational?—Rev. M. Predmore said that he believed all Sunday school literature should be denominational and to a church member the literature of his own church is the best to him. He was followed with interesting remarks from Rev. Griffin, Mr. Knotts, Profs. Hopkins, Rainey and Rev. Field.

EVENING.

Devotional services were read by H. W. Trueblood. The evening was spent in discussing the topic, "What Constitutes the Life of the Sunday School?" Led by Rev. J. H Crowder in a spirited address, followed by a number in short remarks.

There are about 50 delegates present who are well entertained by the people of Boody.

A Cycling Club's Rooms

Decatur wheelmen have all received invitations from the Danville Cycling club, signed by A. J. Woodbury, president, and C. P. Abdill, secretary, asking them in a rather unique way to a club house opening there. The invitation reads

DEAR SIR—The "Danville Cycling Club" will celebrate the opening of their new club rooms, on May 30, with a 10 mile club race, in the fore noon; parade and run in the afternoon; "Smoker" and reception at club rooms in the evening. You are most cordially invited to be present and assist in dispelling the general gloom of the occasion. If you decide to be with us, which we hope will be the case, please notify the secretary, so that we can borrow an appropriate number of chairs, and lay in an extra supply of sandwiches, rainwater, etc.

P. S.—As several other distinguished people are expected, "come early and avoid the rush."

It is likely that several of our boys will accept.

Collar Bone Broken.

Wallace Austin, a young farmer of Blue Mound township, attended an evening session of the Sunday school convention at Boody in company with Mrs. Perkins, a charming young widow of the neighborhood. On the road home the horse became frightened at a falling meteor and dashed through a picket fence, throwing both of them from the buggy. Austin was uninjured and was on his feet in time to see the lady take a header from the vehicle. She was less fortunate and recovering consciousness found that her casualties included a broken collar-bone, severe bruises about the head and face and various minor injuries. Dr. Connelly, of Harristown, rendered the necessary surgical aid.

Orange Blossoms.

Thomas Bratten of Niantic and Miss Alice Havenar, of Illiopolis, succeeded after much tribulation, in securing a license yesterday, and presenting themselves before Justice Curtis, were speedily made man and wife by that expert consolidator of human hearts. They returned to Niantic, their future home, last evening, and THE REVIEW hopes that happiness may ever attend them.

Excursion to Terre Haute.

The T. H. & P. will run an excursion to Terre Haute next Sunday, leaving here at 7 in the morning. The fare will be $1 for the round trip. FRANK JOHNSON

Falls Under a Wabash Train and Loses a Leg

Frank Johnson, a 19 year old man, while attempting to board freight train No. 79 last evening about 7 o'clock, slipped and fell under the wheels of a car with the result that his right leg was crushed from the ankle almost to the knee. The unfortunate young man was taken to Dr. Heil's office where a consultation between Dr. Heil and Dr. W. J. Chenoweth resulted in deciding to amputate the crushed limb Johnson was placed under the influence of chloroform, and the operation successfully performed Afterwards he was taken to the Franklin House on East Cerro Gordo, where he is now resting easily and recouping nicely

John W Smith, a conductor, gave a REVIEWman the following additional information. Johnson and himself live in Bloomington, and left there a few days ago, the former to go to work in the rolling mills at Springfield, the latter to go to Cass county to see about some pension papers belonging to his father. They didn't have a great deal of money and intended beating their way on the train and for that purpose after eating lunch at a levee restaurant, last evening, they went to Edward street and waited until train 79 came along. Smith succeeded in boarding the train and supposed Johnson had also until looking back he saw him lying by the side of the track waving his hand Smith got off the train went back and has remained with his unfortunate companion since This is the first time Johnson was ever away from home, and was not an expert in mounting moving trains His parents, who live at 311 South Main street, Bloomington, where they operate a hotel, were telegraphed last night of their son's misfortune and it is expected they will be in Decatur to day.

The Dramatic Club

A large and fashionable audience filled the parquet and dress circle at the opera house last night The audience was composed of the Dramatic club and its invited friends, who had assembled to see and enjoy the fifth performance this season of the dramatic corps "Lady Fortune," a play in one act was well presented, the whole cast showing the results of a great deal of hard work and careful training The spectators were kept in a pleasant humor all evening and frequently greeted their friends on the stage with applause At the fall of the curtain there was an enthusiastic re-call

This was the cast

Lord Ambley	William S Ennis
Guy Mallory	Henry L. Prather
Mr. Jessup	F M Curtis
Mrs Gunliffe	Miss Burrows
Miss Gunliffe	Miss Koehler
Sarah	Miss Belle Burrows

Among the friends of the club present were a number of society people from Bloomington, Springfield, Chicago, and other places After the play a large part of the audience remained an hour or more to promenade, converse and watch the young people, who danced on the stage The regular opera house orchestra furnished the music. It was nearly 2 o'clock before the last numbers of the program given below were danced, even at that hour with spirit and sigh The entertainment, while being one of the most delightful, as well as most notable of this season, is probably the last one of importance

A Tea

The Russian tea at the Baptist church last night was largely attended and was quite profitable to the ladies who gave it The Russian part of the entertainment was the many young ladies who were charming in the quaint Russian costume They served delicious tea with other good things among which were strawberries and ice cream. A program was given, which included these numbers

Duet—Mrs O F. Spaulding and Henry Manahan

Vilo Solo—Miss Gertrude Randolph

Quartette—Paul Smith and Freeman brothers

Piano Duet—Dr and Mrs. Wood

Solo—Mrs. Spaulding

Miss Netta Clark was the accompanist

Opera Offered.

Two nights of good opera are offered the people of Decatur, who to get them, must express a willingness to attend in numbers large enough to make the engagement pay The Andrews opera company have written Manager Haines to know if two profitable nights could be guaranteed for next week In pursuance of a suggestion made by the company, Mr Haines will make a canvass by circulating a subscription paper If encouragement enough is offered the company will be here. Its repertoire includes "Ermine," "Bohemian Girl," "Pretty Persian" and others. Laura Bellini, Jay Taylor and 40 other people, are in the company.

S of Vs

There was a large attendance of the Sons of Veterans last night at the Grand Army Post Hall for the purpose of being inspected by Col. George B. Stadden, of Springfield, state commander. The boys presented an imposing appearance in their new uniforms, and if Col. Stadden was not satisfied with them, in every particular, he certainly is a man hard to satisfy.

There Are No Equinoctial Storms.

Weather Prophet Gen Greely observes "The equinoxes are imaginary points at the intersection of the circle described by the earth about the sun with the plane of the earth's equator extended till it strikes the imaginary dome of the sky, and they are nothing more than this Hence it is very evident," he says "that they can have absolutely no influence on storms It might be thought that somehow the lengthening of the day at the spring equinox might affect the weather, but, as this lengthening amounts to only two and one half minutes daily, and is a continuous action, lasting for weeks before and after the equinox, the effect is absolutely nothing "—Chicago Times

The Color of Flame.

The color of flame depends partly on the temperature, but principally on the nature of the substances undergoing combustion or incandescence The flame of an ordinary fire is yellow, because the heat is not sufficient to render the carbon a white heat The flame will burn much brighter when air is supplied to it freely, as by raking out the cinders at the bottom of the grate or blowing the fire with a bellows, because with every fresh rush of air there is a new supply of oxygen. The red flame is caused when there is a rapid union between the combustible gases and the oxygen of the air, which is frequently the case in the outermost zone of a candle flame. —Montreal Star.

The Baptist church pulpit committee has as yet come to no conclusion about a successor to Dr Vosburgh, but considerable corresponding has been done. Henry Smith and I. A Buckingham went to Evanston last Sunday to hear Rev. Delano, and liked him very much

There is a movement on foot among the Macon county bar to have only the chancery docket and jail cases tried at this term of court, throwing the common law docket, which is small, over to the September term They give as a reason that the farmers are busy, and can't come in, and a small amount of business will be unnecessarily spread out over a great deal of time in the hot months.

Women have a great habit of leaving things around in the stores. One clerk who waits on ladies almost exclusively, has learned to watch a customer until she is out of the door, to see that she gets away all her bundles. Even then something is found on the counters. Everything, including pocketbooks, handkerchiefs, parasols, bread, drygoods, and even dress patterns is sometimes forgotten.

There seems to be no change in the brick cobblestone controversy of the public improvement committee, and the Citizens Street Car company on West Main street The company has a good part of the track relaid with cobble stones. City Attorney McDonald said yesterday that "whatever they do, they do at their peril" So it would seem that the street car people are likely to hear something drop.

The appropriations for the city expenses have been made out by the committee and will be submitted to the council to-night For the streets and alleys, $1,500 more is appropriated than last year. For the new park $2,500 is set apart. It is thought that when the appropriations are made, park trustees will be appointed, who shall have charge of the funds and the improvements. The park will be brought within the city limits before anything is done.

That Baby Again.

That 14½ pound son of somebody living at 942 North Calhoun street has been heard from again, and this time reliably. A. J. Longnecker did live at that number but moved recently and A. J. Lowry purchased the property and moved into it. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lowry are the happy parents of the democratic young man who weighed 14½ pounds without counting the binders and wrappers, and A. J. has been putting in a good deal of time, since the boy came, committing to memory the "Book of Proverbs" in order that he may be posted on the proper way of training the young fellow in the way he should go.

A Mother's Love.

Some years ago the visitor who went on Saturdays to the penitentiary at Fort Madison would see at certain times a lady in the office of the warden She was always veiled and dressed in deep black By her side there would be a convict, a boy hardly 17 years old, a slight handsome lad whose frank face seemed in striking disharmony with the degradation of the stripes he wore

It was mother and son he was, indeed, but I heard I who could witness their meeting and their parting when the allotted time allowed by the penal rules for such interviews had expired The mother lived at a distance, but every month or more, brought her to the prison door to see, to cheer, and to help her boy, to wring her heart with a fresh agony for she was a proud woman of high station in her city but to show that there was one friend in all the world to remember and to sympathize

It has been years since that boy was released from the prison walls, and he is today a prosperous and honest man The mother's love helped the boy back to better ways—London Church News

For Cold in the Head.

There are a number of ways of aborting a cold in the head, but most of them are by the means of quite powerful drugs, which a person unfamiliar with their use is never justified in taking, on his own responsibility The Swiss method of treatment is one of the simplest and most efficacious It is applied in this way Half fill a jug with boiling water, and into that put a teaspoonful of well powdered camphor Fashion out of writing paper a funnel, with which cap the top of the jug The camphorated steam should be inhaled through the nose for ten or fifteen minutes, the inhalation being repeated, if required, every four or five hours. If, in spite of its unpleasantness, the inhalation is persisted in, it is said that three repetitions will usually effect a cure, however severe—St Paul Globe.

The National Flower.

A wonderful thing is clover It means honey and cream, that is to say industry and contentment, that is to say, the happy bees in perfumed fields and at the cottage gate old boss, the bountiful, chewing satisfaction's cud, in that blessed twilight pause that like a benediction falls between all toil and sleep This clover makes me dream of happy hours, of childhood's rosy cheeks, of dimpled babes, of wholesome, loving wives, of springs and brooks and violets, and all there is of painless joy and peaceful human life A wonderful word is clover Drop the 'c' and you have the happiest of mankind Take away the 'c' and 'r' and you have the only thing that makes a heaven of this dull and barren earth"—Col Robert G Ingersoll

The Hessian Fly.

Uncle Dabney Jones informed The Edgefield (S C) Advertiser that its account of the Hessian fly did not correspond with the generally accepted tradition concerning that little pest He says that his father, who fought in the revolutionary war, told him that when the army was disbanded by Washington a number of Hessians remained in this country, and, being of a restless, nomadic temperament, distributed themselves pretty generally, some of them drifting down to Carolina. The next year they sent to the Federland for wheat to plant and when the wheat came up the fly appeared, so that the larvæ of the fly must have been brought over in the wheat We suppose Uncle Dabney's account is the correct one

Beware of These Coins.

The British consul at this port is good enough to warn all those intending to visit Europe that the British government will not redeem English gold coins of a date preceding Queen Victoria, except at their bullion value. Tradespeople and the hotels in London are refusing to receive them, except with a discount of seven pence or fourteen cents on the pound It will be necessary to avoid receiving any old British sovereigns or half sovereigns when buying money to take aboard ship, unless you are willing to stand the deduction of two or three cents on the dollar.—Boston Transcript.

The Miners Meet Again.

The miners held another meeting last night and although it was a protracted one, it was conducted as far as known without having reached a satisfactory conclusion of their future course. Very little could be learned of what was done, but individual miners were not at all backward about saying: "We are not going to work at the present figures."

They feel and the majority of the people feel with them that their demand for 70 cents a ton for all coal mined is but a just and reasonable one and that they ought to get it.

Parties who presumably know of what they speak, tell THE REVIEW that if the matter were left with President Armstrong it would have been settled long ago, as they have pretty good authority for believing that he is in favor of giving the price asked. Whether this is true or not, THE REVIEW is unable to say, but if it is Mr. Armstrong should get the credit due Some of the stock holders they say are responsible for the hitch in the proceedings

In the meantime coal is coming in in sufficient quantities to supply all demands. Decatur mines are idle and unproductive of good to any one, and home miners are taking a long holiday.

TRADE S.S.S. MARK

Mrs Geo P Smoote, a highly cultivated and estimable lady of Prescott, Ark., writes under date of April 22, 89 "During the summer of 1887 my eyes became inflamed and my stomach and liver became seriously disordered Nothing I ate agreed with me I took chronic diarrhœa, and for some time my life was despaired of by my family The leading physicians of the country were consulted but the medicines administered by them never did me any permanent good, and I lingered between life and death the latter being preferable to the agonies I was suffering In May, 1888 I became disgusted with physicians and their medicines I dropped them all and depended entirely on Swift's Specific (S S S) a few bottles of which made me permanently well—well from then until now"

It Builds up Old People.
